INSTRUCTOR - DEVELOPMENT TRAINING PROGRAM

ADMINISTRATOR'S GUIDE

PREFACE

The development of this training program was a joint effort between the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) and the Transportation Safety Institute (TSI). It is designed to enable law enforcement officers to develop the knowledge, skills and attitudes necessary to effectively fill roles as instructors in support of NHTSA's Standardized Field Sobriety Testing (SFST) training program which targets impaired drivers.

This Administrator's Guide is intended to facilitate planning and implementation of this instructor training program. It describes the materials included in the curriculum package, outlines the administrative requirements for the training program, and offers suggestions for meeting those requirements. The Guide also describes preparations that must be made before the training can take place and the follow-up actions needed to ensure the desired outcome.

Standardized Field Sobriety Testing Instructor-Development Training Program Administrator's Guide

A. Purpose of This Course

The purpose of this course is to prepare law enforcement professionals to effectively administer and instruct in the SFST training program. The curriculum addresses the application of basic adult learning theory and the instruction skills needed to deliver this training.

B. Overview of the Course

This Administrator's Guide provides an overview of the four-day Instructor-Development Training Program and two stand alone modules, "Introduction to Drugged Driving" (4-hours) and "Drugs That Impair Driving" (8-hours). Both modules are highly recommended additions to this course (see Appendix C).

1. For whom is the training intended?

In the SFST instructor-development training program the principal participants are law enforcement officers who have demonstrated proficiency in the administration of the standardized field sobriety tests (SFSTs), and actively involved in detecting and apprehending impaired drivers. They may be employees of any law enforcement agency. They may or may not possess basic presentation skills or knowledge of adult learning, but their reason for attending this training should be motivated by:

- o a desire to develop or strengthen effective presentation skills.
- o a desire to develop or strengthen skills as an SFST instructor.
- o a desire to learn how to conduct interactive participant-centered training.
- o a desire to become more familiar with the SFST curriculum available through NHTSA and the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

2. What is the purpose of this training?

The purpose of this training is to prepare law enforcement officers to effectively instruct in the NHTSA/IACP standardized field sobriety testing program. This curriculum addresses the application of basic adult learning theory and the skills related to technical teaching. Participants learn effective teaching techniques from experienced instructor demonstration and their own in-class participation. They will learn how to deliver this specific training program (SFST) and the basics on how to make effective presentations.

3. What will the participants achieve from this training?

The SFST Instructor-Development training program will enable participants to achieve these objectives:

- o importance of knowing adult learning principles and how they relate to effective training;
- o to apply the motivational techniques and presentation skills taught in this course;
- o demonstrate effective questioning techniques and how to handle challenging situations;
- o develop and use training aids; and,
- o the roles and responsibilities of instructors in conducting the SFST training program.

4. What subject matter does this course cover?

The contents of this training program focus on adult learning, effective presentation skills and techniques for conducting effective training. Specific topics include:

- Introduction and Overview
- o Adult Learning Concepts
- o SFST Curriculum Package
- o Assignments for Practice Teaching
- o Getting Ready for Teaching
- o Techniques for Effective Classroom Presentations
- o Guidelines for Planning and Managing an Alcohol Workshop

- o Guidelines for Use of IACP/NHTSA Approved Videos of Drinking Subjects
- o Optional 4-Hour or 8-Hour Blocks on Drugs That Impair Driving

5. What activities take place during this training?

The most significant learning activities are the presentations made by the participants. Participants use NHTSA course materials to prepare their practice teaching presentations. Participants are expected to become thoroughly familiar with content, learning activities, training aids, etc. related to delivery of the SFST course.

A critical learning activity takes place in Session VIII, where participant-instructors learn how to manage and conduct a live alcohol workshop (controlled drinking lab). Participant-instructors are taught all the activities crucial to the SAFE operation of a live drinking session. All of the key control components needed to eliminate or minimize "glitches" that might occur if the workshop is not properly supervised are examined and discussed thoroughly.

NOTE: THE IACP STRONGLY BELIEVES THAT CONDUCTING LIVE ALCOHOL WORKSHOPS IS THE OPTIMAL WAY OF ACHIEVING THE LEARNING OBJECTIVES OF THE SFST TRAINING.

6. What is the length of the instructor-development training program?

The training course lasts approximately four days. If an administrator elects to include either of the two-drug related modules, then the course would be expanded by 4 or 8 hours. (See Overview of the Course, pg. 1)

7. What are the minimum instructor qualifications needed to teach this course?

Train-the-trainer instructors for this course MUST have successfully completed a state approved instructor-development course or its equivalent, and have clearly demonstrated all the techniques and skills required of a competent training. In addition, if more than one teacher-trainer is involved in presenting this course, at least half of the training staff must have successfully completed the NHTSA/IACP approved SFST training program and have experience in administrating the SFSTs as well as having provided testimony in court in the area of DUI/DWI enforcement.

NOTE: If an administrator elects to add either drug module to this course (see "Overview of the Course", pg 1), it is preferred that the instructor for the 4-hour segment be a Drug Recognition Expert (DRE). If the 8-hour segment is chosen, the instructor MUST be a DRE.

8. What are the facility requirements?

The course requires a classroom with ample table/desk space for a maximum of 28 participants (24 participants are preferred). An additional room capable of holding half the class is needed for the third and fourth day of the course when participant presentations are made.

The facility should also provide two overhead projectors and screens; two video tape players and monitors, two flip charts and/or dry-erase boards. NOTE: The second set of equipment is only needed on the third and fourth days of the course.

If possible, the classroom should be arranged in a U-shaped manner to facilitate instruction.

9. What are the class size considerations?

A class of 24 participants is ideal. However, 28 participants can easily be accommodated. It is recommended that an "even" number of participants be assigned to attend this course since the practice teaching assignments are team-taught.

10. What planning and preparation requirements are needed?

The first step to take when planning, preparing, or participating in this course is to contact a NHTSA regional training coordinator or Governor's Highway Safety Representative for assistance (see Appendix A for list of NHTSA regional offices and GHSO). The NHTSA person assigned training responsibilities for states in their jurisdiction can provide guidance, course materials, and technical assistance, if needed.

If considering sending participants to attend this course, a basic requirement is that candidate instructors must have successfully completed the NHTSA/ IACP approved basic SFST training program, have demonstrated an interest in DUI/DWI enforcement, and has voiced a desire to be a trainer.

If hosting this course, select your instructors, secure the required equipment, and prepare the facilities.

11. What are the requirements for successful completion of this course?

Participants much achieve a grade of at least 80% on the written test. ANY SESSIONS MISSED DURING EXCUSED ABSENCES MUST BE MADE UP.

APPENDIX C

OVERVIEW OF OPTIONAL TRAINING ON DRUGGED DRIVING

OPTION ONE: 4-HOUR BLOCK ENTITLED "INTRODUCTION TO DRUGGED DRIVING"

The purpose of this module is to acquaint the participant with information on the recognition of individuals who may be medically impaired or under the influence of drugs other than alcohol, and to assist them in preparing to prosecute such cases.

Police officers responsible for traffic law enforcement will continuously encounter drug-impaired drivers. The best available data suggest that tens of millions of Americans routinely use drugs other than alcohol and some of these people drive when under the influence of those drugs.

Some drug-impaired drivers look and act very much like alcohol-impaired drivers. Others look and act very differently. All of them are dangerous, to themselves and to everyone else on the road.

Upon successfully completing this module of instruction, the participant will be able to:

- o define the term "drug" in the context of DWI enforcement.
- o describe in approximate, quantitative terms the incidence of drug involvement in motor vehicle crashes and in DWI enforcement.
- o name the major categories of drugs.
- o describe the observable signs generally associated with the major drug categories.
- o describe medical conditions and other situations than can produce similar signs.
- o describe appropriate procedures for dealing with drug-impaired or medicallyimpaired suspects.

OPTION TWO: 8-HOUR BLOCK ENTITLED "DRUGS THAT IMPAIR DRIVING"
THIS TRAINING WILL NOT QUALIFY AN OFFICER TO SERVE AS A DRE.

This module is designed primarily for police officers who meet the IACP/NHTSA National Standardized Field Sobriety Testing Program Standards and who have successfully completed an IACP/NHTSA approved curriculum. The officer must be able to administer and interpret the SFST's for alcohol-impaired suspects. The participant should be fully conversant with the procedural "mechanics" of HGN with the three clues of HGN and with the interpretation of those clues for assessing alcohol impairment. A major focus of this module is on the examination of a drug-impaired suspect's eyes, and the procedures for those eye examinations derive largely from HGN procedures.

The purpose of the module is to improve participants' ability to recognize suspects who may be under the influence of drugs other than alcohol, and to take appropriate action when they encounter such suspects (i.e., summon a DRE or request a medical examination. Note: This module does not require that the participant develop the ability to distinguish what type of drug is responsible for the observed impairment, but the participant should become more adept to recognizing the possible presence of some drug other than alcohol or a medical condition.

The participant who successfully completes the module should be able to:

- o define the term "drug" in the context of this course;
- o describe in approximate, quantitative terms the incidence of drug involvement in motor vehicle crashes and DWI enforcement;
- o name the major categories of drugs;
- o describe the observable signs of impairment generally associated with the major drug categories;
- o describe medical conditions and other situations that can produce similar signs of impairment; and,
- o describe appropriate procedures for dealing with drug-impaired or medically impaired suspects.

ALL MATERIALS ARE MASTERS - COPY AS NEEDED.

ATTENTION: LEAD INSTRUCTOR/COURSE ADMINISTRATOR

In order to assist the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration in the validation of course materials, the Transportation Safety Institute is requesting your feedback. The purpose of conducting this evaluation is to determine:

- accuracy and completeness of course materials
- adequacy of course material design
- utility of course materials
- usability of course materials

Course materials are evolving documents which must be updated and refined in detail over the life of the course through a process of review, comment, analysis and revision in order to meet the training requirements of instructors as well as participants.

The attached questionnaire provides the expert users (lead instructors/course administrators) an opportunity to assess the viability of the course materials in relation to its capabilities and constraints. The goal of this questionnaire is to identify and set in motion actions to resolve course implementation issues as early as possible. The review and input that you provide is vital to the success of NHTSA's training mission.

DIRECTIONS: Fill out the Lead Instructor/Course Administrator Questionnaire at the completion of this course. Use this questionnaire to record your comments about the strengths and weaknesses of the instructional package provided for this course. Please provide detailed answers for each item requiring further explanation. (Use specific examples when available.) In addition, complete an Instructor Roster and a Participant Roster (attachments are provided for your convenience) WITHIN 10 DAYS OF CLASS COMPLETION, RETURN BOTH ROSTERS AND QUESTIONNAIRE TO:

TRANSPORTATION SAFETY INSTITUTE HIGHWAY TRAFFIC SAFETY DIVISION DTI-70 P.O. BOX 25082 OKLAHOMA CITY, OK 73125

If further information is needed, or if you have any questions concerning this evaluation process, contact DTI-70, Phone: (405) 954-3112, FAX: (405) 954-8264.

PRINCIPLES AND TECHNIQUES OF TRAINING IN STANDARDIZED FIELD SOBRIETY TESTING

THE SFST INSTRUCTOR TRAINING SCHOOL

TEACHER-TRAINER'S MANUAL

Sponsored by:

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration

HS 181C R2/06

FOREWORD

This document contains the lesson plans and visual aids for the 32-hour teaching training program for standardized field sobriety testing (SFST) instructors. The goal of this program is to prepare SFST trained officers who are proficient in using the SFSTs to teach others to use these tests. The only officers eligible to attend this teacher training program are those who have:

- o Satisfactorily completed SFST training, based on the NHTSA SFST curriculum or its equivalent;
- o Participated in two "live" volunteer drinking subject practice sessions (alcohol workshops) during which they personally administered the horizontal gaze nystagmus, walk and turn, and one-leg-stand test to persons who have consumed alcohol; or
- o Participated in one "live" volunteer drinking subject practice session (alcohol workshop) during which they personally administered the horizontal gaze nystagmus, walk and turn, and one-leg-stand test to persons who have consumed alcohol, and participated in one NHTSA/IACP approved video-taped session of drinking subjects; or
- o Participated in two NHTSA/IACP approved video-taped sessions of drinking subjects; and
- o Demonstrated continued proficiency with the SFSTs, either in actual enforcement operations or in alcohol workshops, or both, since the completion of their training.

The first two days of this school focus on basic principles and techniques of teaching, and on the specific application of those principles and techniques to the curriculum employed for classroom training in SFSTs. During those two days, the student-instructors become able to:

- o Explain adult learning principles and their importance in conducting effective training;
- o Identify and describe the three Domains of Learning, and give examples of each domain in the context of DWI enforcement;
- o Define and describe the four-step process of teaching and learning;

- o Discuss how to increase learning efficiency by involving learners more fully in the learning process;
- o Describe the documents that make up the standard curriculum packages for the SFST School;
- o Describe the content and format of the lesson plans for the SFST School;
- o Describe the characteristics of a good SFST instructor;
- o Carry out the instructor preparation tasks for any session of the SFST School;
- o Describe and apply specific guidelines for conducting each step of the fourstep process of teaching and learning;
- o Use appropriate questioning techniques to enhance students' involvement in presentations;
- o Use visual aids to improve the effectiveness of presentations;
- o Plan and manage an alcohol workshop'
- o Administer the use of IACP/NHTSA approved video tapes for optional SFST training.

On the third and fourth days, the student-instructor will have opportunities to apply what they have learned. They will teach selected portions of the SFST School. The student-instructors will be told of their practice teaching assignments on the first day of the course, and they will have time in class on the first two days to begin preparing for the assignments.

Optional training: NHTSA/IACP's approved 8-hour overview of the DEC program, is offered on the fifth day of the instructor training school. This will include an overview of the procedures drug recognitions experts (DREs) use to evaluate persons suspected of impairment due to drugs other than alcohol; an overview of the DRE training sequence; and, information concerning prerequisites for persons interested in pursuing DRE training.

This Manual contains the lesson plans and associated visual aids to support the training that you will deliver on the first, second and fifth days of the course. The lesson plans are organized into eight units:

Unit One	Introduction and Overview (1 hour)
Unit Two	Concepts of Adult Learning and Training (2 hours)
Unit Three	The SFST Curriculum Package (2 hours)
Unit Four	Assignments for Practice Teaching (1 hour & 30 minutes)
Unit Five	Getting Ready for Teaching (1 hour & 15 minutes)
Unit Six	Techniques for Effective Classroom Presentations (3 hours)
Unit Seven	Guidelines for Planning and Managing a Live Alcohol Workshop (1 hour)
Unit Eight	Guidelines for Conducting Video Options for SFST Training (1 hour)
Unit Nine	Training Summary and Conclusion (1 hour & 30 minutes)

Who is qualified to teach this teacher-training school? Who can teach SFST instructors to teach? The SFST teacher-trainer is a person who:

- o is fully conversant with the principles and techniques of teaching, as expressed in Units Two, Five, Six and Seven of this course; and,
- o possesses solid competence as an instructor; and,
- o is familiar with the subject-matter of SFST training.

Usually, the SFST teacher-trainer is a well-experienced SFST instructor, who has helped teach several SFST Schools. But in fact it is not absolutely essential that the SFST teacher-trainer be an SFST instructor, or even be a certified SFST practitioner. The teacher-trainer, after all, is not attempting to show anyone how to use the SFSTs. The students already know how to do that. The teacher-trainer's task is to show them how to teach, and that is very different altogether. Many professional instructors, who have the ability to serve very well as SFST teacher-trainers do have to be knowledgeable about the tests and how they are used. NHTSA recommends that, at a minimum, the teacher-trainer must have audited the SFST School at least once, and must be fully conversant with the Student and Instructor Manual, but need not be a certified SFST practitioner (provided the other prerequisites are met).

	Managing breaks and giving participants responsibility for returning on time is also important to conducting effective training. Think of different ways for participants to select their own group break monitors, i.e., the nearest birthday; who traveled the farthest to the training from their home; most or least number of years married, the youngest or oldest in their small group, etc. Use your imagination!	Before dismissing for the first break, ask that each group find who has the nearest birthday in that group. Now ask that person to be responsible for getting the people at their table back to the classroom in 10 minutes. It is also a good idea to post the return time on the board or flip chart. SESSION TWO CONCEPTS OF ADULT LEARNING AND TEACHING

SESSION TWO: CONCEPTS OF ADULT LEARNING AND TEACHING

Given an opportunity to apply basic adult learning theory, using the information provided in the classroom and materials in the manual, the participants will be able to:

- Compare differences and similarities between children and adults as learners.
- Describe how applying basic adult learning rules can contribute to training effectiveness.
- Explain different ways adults are motivated to learn.
- Identify and describe the three Domains of Learning, and give examples of each Domain in the context of SFST training.
- Define the four-step process of teaching and learning.

Too often when we are asked to be trainers or instructors, we begin with an image in our minds based on how we have been taught in the past. In most instances, the image in our minds is closely related to how we were taught as children in school. However, there are significant

We can see that children must rely on others to decide what is important to be learned. This is because children do not have a knowledge base or experience from which to decide when material is important to learn.

differences between children and adults as learners. The training approach we would use with adults, therefore, should be significantly different from the approach that would be appropriate for teaching children. It's important to understand the differences so that we can gear our training to the needs of the NOTE: Record information on Slide II-3 on a flipchart or dryerase board. Then compare with Slide II-4. Discuss.

Children also accept new information at face value. Adults need to validate the information based on their experience and beliefs.

Children expect what they are learning now to be useful later on in their future. Adults, however, expect it to be immediately useful to them.

Children have little experience from which to draw. Adults, on the other hand, have much past experience to draw from and may also have very fixed view points.

Children have little ability to serve as a knowledgeable resource to the teacher or their classmates. Adults, however, can serve as knowledgeable resources to the trainer and fellow trainees.

As trainers of adults, we need to remember that every participant brings life experiences as well as subject matter expertise in a given area to the training room.

Recognition and appreciation of who we are, contributes to our own sense of well being and self esteem. As an adult learner, when I feel good about myself, I'll be more receptive to learning.

Now that we have talked about the differences between children and adults in training, let's think about some points to remember.

B. Adult Learning Rules

1. Explain benefits (WII-FM).

WII-FM = "What's In It For Me?" Adults must feel that they will benefit from the training, either personally or on the job.

2. Relate learning to past experiences.

Link new information or knowledge to something familiar.

3. Encourage participation and interaction.

Provide opportunities for practice and group interaction.

Adults must believe they will benefit in some way from attending and participating in a training program.

We must tune them in early to radio station "WII-FM." Once they can understand what the training will do for them, they will become more receptive participants.

We need to relate new knowledge or information to previous technical (job) or life experiences, in order for effective learning to take place.

The use of relevant stories or examples is valuable and essential to effective training. The key here is to ensure that stories or examples are related to the subject matter so that a connection can be easily made.

We learn by doing, so it makes sense for effective training to include opportunities for practice or participation by the participants. Trainers should create and structure those opportunities when they are not already in a lesson plan.

The use of structured group activities, role plays, games, or other exercises is an effective technique to encourage participation and group interaction.

If we want participants to be resources to each other, we need to encourage interaction. Aids Lesson Plan Instructor Notes

4. Listen and respect their opinions. (MMFG-AM)

MMFG-AM = "Make Me Feel Good About Myself". Acknowledge and recognize the knowledge and experience each person brings.

skill to master is listening. It takes concentration to ignore mental and environmental distractions and really listen. However, effective trainers must learn to listen just as we expect participants to listen to us. We need to recognize that everyone brings some degree of knowledge or life experiences that can benefit the group. Some of our participants may even have more job experience than we, the trainers. Why not learn and benefit from them? Adults want to be acknowledged and appreciated for what they can contribute to a group's learning experience.

The hardest communication

The old AM radio station "MMFG-AM", stands for "Make Me Feel Good About Myself", and in training it can "tune" us into positive reinforcement and motivation.

As trainers, instructors, facilitator of learning, and class-room managers, we will have the opportunity to bring people with common goals together. We need to help them discover just what valuable resources they can be to each other and to us, the trainer. Training should never be a learning experience only for the participants, the instructors should learn from them as well.

5. Encourage them to be resources to each other and to you, the trainer.

Help them realize the valuable resources they have in each other. As the trainer, tap their knowledge or experience and allow them to be a resource to you as well.

6. Treat them like adults. Remember how adults differ from children in learning and Be professional and focus on conduct your training accordtheir learning needs. Give them ingly. Focus on their learning needs, NOT YOURS. Give a sense of responsibility. them a sense of responsibility. C. Maximum Efficiency in Learning 15 Minutes 1. We need to remember how adults learn best: the most efficient method of training is through the use of verbal, visual and hands-on experiences in a realistic setting or environment. 2. Most learners can be divided into these three types: a. Visual - those who learn by seeing. Display II-5 b. Auditory - those who learn by hearing. Tactile - those who learn through the sense of touch. We can appeal to all three Although some of us can learn dominant senses in learning by from a lecture, we need using a combination of verbal, opportunities to apply what we visual and hands-on training have learned. methods. 3. - 4. Every job performed by human beings requires learning in all three Domains.
 - a. Every job, no matter how basic, requires that the person who performs the job have some basic knowledge that can be used. If you don't possess that knowledge, you won't perform the job very well.
 - b. Every job, no matter how simple, requires that the job performer be able to carry out some skills. If you don't have some skills, you won't perform the job well.
 - c. Every job requires that the person doing it has some particular attitudes. If you don't have those attitudes, you simply won't do a very good job.
- 5. For every job that you can perform well, somewhere along the line you learned the knowledge that the job requires, and you learned the skills it requires, and you learned the attitudes it requires.
- 6. When you set out to teach a job to participants, you have to help them learn the knowledge and the skills and the attitudes that

Example: You won't do a very good job of driving the nail into the wood if you can't perform the simple skill of swinging the hammer so it hits the nail squarely.

Example: If you don't much care whether the nail goes into the wood straight, you will probably do a pretty sloppy job at driving the nail.

- o It is always best to offer positive, rather than negative incentives to learning.
- CLARIFICATION: Instructors should not rely on the old-fashioned method of saying "You'd better learn this, because it's going to be on the test." That usually creates fear, rather than an incentive to learn.

EXAMPLE: "I want you to learn to use these guidelines for conducting the PREPARATION step because you will be a better teacher if you can use them."

- d. Relate the subject-matter to what the participants have already learned.
 - o Participants usually have a hard time learning something if they think it will be difficult to learn.
 - o If they believe they have what it takes to learn something, the learning usually comes easy.
 - o At the beginning of a session, try to show the participants that their prior learning, i.e., the things they already can do, will make it easy for them to learn this new thing.

EXAMPLES:

- (1) Suppose you are getting ready to teach the Vertical Nystagmus test to your participants. How could you relate this to their prior learning to reassure them that the test will be easy to learn? (You might refer to the fact that they already are able to use the Horizontal Gaze Nystagmus test, and that they will find Vertical Nystagmus to be a much simpler procedure.
- (2) Suppose you are about to teach your participants to use a preliminary breath testing instrument. How could you relate this to their prior learning? (You might ask how many of them have been trained to use Radars, and you could point out that the PBT is much easier to operate than is a Radar.)

		EMPHASIZE that the participants generally don't like surprises in training; they want to be told about what they'll be doing before they do it.
	 e. PREPARATION essentially is motivating the participant. Participants usually are best motivated to learn when they: o Know what they are expected to learn. o Believe it is worthwhile to learn it. o Are confident of their ability to learn it. o Have a clear understand-ing of what will take place. ANALOGY: Failure to clarify the learning objectives for your participants is like neglecting to tell the passengers in a car where they are being taken, and why. They may eventually get to the destination, but they probably won't enjoy the trip.

Key points concerning the PRESENTATION step: PRESENTATION means showing the participants what you want them to do and how you want them to do it. You can't present what you can't do. If you are going to present information, you must know the information and know how to use it.

	 (a) Simple for the participants. o Words and expressions that are familiar to them. o Terms they can understand. (b) Simple for the instructor. o Words you actually understand. o Words you can pronounce correctly. (2) Be familiar with the lesson. (a) The instructor must thoroughly study the lesson plans. 	POINT OUT that in SFST training it is not possible to avoid technical terms altogether: There are many complex or scientific expressions that the courts may demand that officers know (e.g., nystagmus).

	(b) But the instructor should not attempt to memorize the lesson plans.
	(c) If you need to refer to the lesson plans du-ring the class, don't be afraid to do so.
	(3) Use eye contact.
	(a) Eye contact communicates the instructor's interest in the participant as an individual.
	(b) It helps to keep the participants involved in the presentation.	POINT OUT that the participants are less likely to let their minds and their attention wander if they think you are going to be looking at them.
	(c) It gives you a chance to see how the participants are receiving the information you are presenting.	POINT OUT that, when eye contact is made with the participants, the instructor can observe their facial expressions and assess their reactions to the presentation.
	o expressions of disbelief

	(4) Use humor appropriately.
	(a) Willingness to use

	humor moderately conveys a relaxed atmosphere that is conducive to efficient learning.
	(b) Most importantly, the humor should never be malicious or directed at any- one in an offensive manner.
	(c) Never "put down" participants in an attempt to be funny.
	(d) If you are going to make fun of someone in the class, make sure that you only make fun of yourself.
	(5) But don't tell jokes.	Ask the participants to suggest some reasons why it is almost always inappropriate to tell jokes in class.
	(a) Jokes take time to tell (time that is stolen from the information you are supposed to present).
	(b) When the instructor tells a joke, it may provoke the participants to start telling jokes, and control of the class may be lost.
HS 181C R2/06	II-21

Aids	Lesson Plan	Instructor Notes
	(c) Jokes rarely, if ever, are completely pertinent to the topic being presented; thus, jokes are distractions that tend to draw the presentation off course.
	(d) Many jokes, even seemingly innocuous jokes, are offensive to some participants.
	(6) Ask questions often.
	(a) A good instructor will frequently pose questions during the presentation.	Ask participants to suggest some reasons for frequently posing questions.
	(b) Questions heighten class involvement.
	(c) Require participants to think about the information being presented.
	(d) Require a verbal response by the participant, i.e., increased level of activity.
	(e) Allow participants to participate in delivering information to one another.	POINT OUT that, when a participant answers a question, the class has an opportunity for a new sensory experience, i.e., the sound of another voice.
HS 181C R2/06	II-22

Aids	Lesson Plan	Instructor Notes
	(f) Questions also allow the instructor to check on how well the participants are grasping the information.	POINT OUT that detailed hints for using questions to enhance presentations will be given later in this unit.
	(7) Stay in control.	Ask participants to comment on what they think "staying in control" means.
	(a) As the instructor, you are responsible for seeing to it that the learning activities you have planned actually take place.
	(b) When you start to teach a session, you have a number of things in mind that you expect your participants to do during that session.	SOME EXAMPLES: o listening to a presentation on a specific topic; o answering a series of questions that you plan to ask; o participating in some hands- on practice with one of the SFSTs.
	(c) "Staying in control" means that you make sure that these planned activities occur on schedule.
	(d) "Staying in control" does not mean that you must be a rigid, domineering author- ity figure in class.
HS 181C R2/06	II-23

Aids	Lesson Plan	Instructor Notes
	(e) But it does mean that you cannot permit anything unplanned to get in the way of the planned learning activities.
	(f) An instructor loses control when something is permitted to take place that distracts participants from the planned learning activities, or that prevents those activities from even starting.	List their responses on the dry- erase board. Make sure that at least these four are listed: o "War stories" o "Off the Point" issues
	(8) Use body language appropriately, but avoid distracting mannerisms.
	(a) Examples of appro- priate body language.	Demonstrate examples of appropriate body language.
	o Using hand gestures, head nodding, etc. to encourage a participant who is responding to a question.

	o Pacing in front of the class.	POINT OUT that distracting mannerisms tend to occupy the participants' attention, and o Repeatedly "clicking" a ball- point pen.	prevents them from participating fully in the learning activities.
	o Verbal distractions, e.g., frequently interjecting the words like "okay", "and", "ah" in your sentences.
	(9) Be yourself.
	(a) Use your own style and manner of presentation.
	(b) Let your own natural personality be evident.
	(c) Don't attempt to "act out" someone else's styleit seldom works.
	(10) Use visual aids.

	a. COACHING AND PRACTICE is essential in all three Domains of Learning .
	o If the learning is Cognitive, the participant must have a chance to practice using the information. EVALUATION: Finding out how well the participant is learning or has learned. a. EVALUATION applies to all three Domains of Learning. We have to test the participant's knowledge: Does the participant under-stand the information, facts, concepts, etc. that you have presented, and can the participant apply that information? We have to test the participant's skill: can they perform in the proper way, as you demonstrated? We have to test the participant's attitude: do they hold the opinions and beliefs that you displayed?

II-27

Aids	Lesson Plan	Instructor Notes
	b. Key points concerning EVALUATION: o EVALUATION must occur throughout the training; it cannot be put off until the very end.
	o We have to EVALUATE the PREPARATION step.	Clarification: We evaluate the PREPARATION step by finding out if the participants understand what they are supposed to learn, before we begin to present the information.
		Do the participants understand what the training is intended to enable them to do? Do the participants understand how this training will be beneficial. Is the participant aware of what learning activities will take place?
	o We have to EVALUATE the PRESENTATION step.	Clarification: We evaluate the PRESENTATION step by finding out if the participant understands what we have presented or demonstrated, before we allow the participant to start to practice. Does the participant understand what you have just said or demonstrated? Should you repeat your demonstration another time? Do you need to clarify your explanation?
	o We have to EVALUATE the COACHING AND PRACTICE step.	Clarification: We evaluate the COACHING AND PRACTICE step by finding out what kind of progress the participant is making. Is the participant

	0 IF WE FAIL TO EVAL- UATE THE PARTICIPANTS UNTIL THE VERY END OF THE TRAINING, IT WILL BE TOO LATE TO HELP THEM IF WE FIND THAT THE PARTICIPANT'S PERFORMANCE IS DEFICIENT.
	o THE ULTIMATE QUESTION FOR EVALUATING LEARNING ALWAYS IS: CAN THE PARTICIPANTS DO WHAT THEY ARE SUPPOSED TO DO?	EMPHASIZE: Learning always means acquiring the ability to do something.

	3. COACHING AND PRACTICE: "Let me try it!"	During the COACHING AND PRACTICE step, you have to give the participants a chance to try doing what you want them to learn, and you have to point out what the participant is doing wrong, as well as what the participant is doing right.
	4. EVALUATION: "How am I doing?"	During the EVALUATION step, you have to check the participant's progress, and revise the learning activities, as necessary, to help the participant learn. Ultimately, you must determine whether or not the participants can do what they were supposed to learn to do.
		EMPHASIZE that this four- step process of teaching and learning is the cornerstone of SFST training. On Wednesday and Thursday, and in all of their future classes, these participant-instructors will be expected to apply the steps of PREPARATION, PRESENTATION, COACHING AND PRACTICE and EVALUATION.

Start by going through the What do you find works best for material just as you would during the presentation, don't try to memorize it. Some trainers use the "3 to 1" ratio for determining how much time to prepare. This formula means that for every hour of instruction, we would need to prepare for three hours. However, remember that subject matter knowledge, experience in training others and individual confidence levels will also influence the amount of preparation time required. If possible, practice presenting aloud in the room you will actually be using. This will help you feel more comfortable and familiar with the surroundings. You will also look as if you are used to moving around in that environment. Ideally, you would want to have your practice presentations videoed, enabling you to see and hear yourself just

The right side or instructional notes area may have suggestions for delivery of that material. Those are only suggestions and if you find other delivery techniques or methods that are: a. Effective and appropriate for the content. b. Comfortable for you as the instructor. You should use them. Trainers should incorporate their individual style to the delivery. There is a difference between content and style, or technique. While not all of the techniques we see used by other instructors may seem comfortable for us, we should try to find ways to enrich the learning experience for our participants. Their needs, after all, are why we should be conducting training.

TECHNIQUES FOR EFFECTIVE CLASSROOM PRESENTATIONS

SESSION SIX: TECHNIQUES FOR EFFECTIVE CLASSROOM PRESENTATIONS

Given an opportunity to apply basic adult learning theory, using the information provided in the classroom and materials in the manual, the participants will be able to:

- Identify disruptive learning and strategies for handling challenging classroom situations.
- Describe effective questioning techniques.
- Describe techniques for successful team teaching.
- Describe proper and improper use of interactive training techniques.
- Explain the purposes of using training aids to conduct effective classroom presentations.

During this session it is SITUATIONS especially important to solicit group input and discussion. (Sometimes by discussing different participant behaviors 70 Minutes en-countered in the classroom, participants are able to identify with some of the behaviors.) Introduction Classroom challenges are those situations that may develop in the classroom as a result of various participant behaviors. Sometimes these situations can disrupt the learning process. Every instructor will encounter some type of classroom challenge at some time or another. In order to manage these classroom situations effectively, trainers should: a. Be aware of potential disruptive behaviors. b. Learn appropriate strategies for handling these situations.

2. Learning requires participation.

Remember that learning is most likely to occur when participants are actively involved. The skills we discuss later will help encourage participant participation.

3. Too much or too little participation.

Differences in levels of participation are a natural reflection of variations in experience, knowledge levels and personalities. Participating too much or too little can disrupt the learning process.

If some participants are too vocal, others may not be able to fully participate in the training. Also, instructors may find they are out of time before all learning activities have been completed.

And if some individuals are too quiet, their input is lost. Shy or quiet participants may pose another challenge for instructors--it is difficult to assess whether learning is taking place.

As trainers, we should not assume that these behaviors reflect hostility toward us or the training.

HS 181C R2/06

Aids	Lesson Plan	Instructor Notes
	Overly vocal participants may be enthusiastic and excited about the course material while quiet participants may be apprehensive about speaking up in front of others.	"What are some examples of 'classroom challenges' that you have encountered?" (Encourage discussion.)
	When learning is disrupted, instructors must use appropriate strategies to manage the classroom. Eliminating or minimizing disruptions helps instructors to manage the learning environment more effectively.	Record examples on flip chart or dry-erase board.
	 4. Three Considerations As trainers, we are responsible for handling potential disruptive behaviors that are negatively impacting on the learning. Here are three considerations in handling classroom problem situations. a. Eliminate or minimize the problem behavior.
Display VI-3	We need to resolve the problem to the extent necessary for learning to resume without disruption.
	b. Maintain the participant's self-esteem. We need to take care of the problem in a way that doesn't affect participants' self-esteem.

VI-3

Aids

	c. Avoid further disruption to learning.
	We need to preserve a learning environment that is relaxed, comfortable and conducive to learning.
	5. Identifying Strategies
0	Three steps to follow in identifying strategies:
Display VI-4	Step 1. Identify possible strategies - those you have seen other trainers use as well as those you think would fit the situation.
	Step 2. Evaluate them against the three considerations discussed earlier, eliminating those that do not meet all three conditions.
	Step 3. Select a strategy to use in handling the problem situation.
	Exercise: Begin by first discussing two or three types of behaviors that trainers encounter in the classroom. One might be "Victor the Voice of Experience", or "Ida the Idea Zapper."	Allow 15 minutes for organizing exercises, 20 minutes for discussion. (Be Creative! Appropriate substitution is acceptable.)
	Ask if they've encountered or observed any behaviors that were disruptive to learning. Lead the discussion and have someone list behaviors they identify on a flip chart.

Then refer to the Exercise in their manual and ask that they either select a behavior listed on the flip chart or one of the two described in the Exercise for their table group to discuss.

Give them 15 minutes to do this exercise and give them responsibility for taking their break during the allotted time. Each group also has to select a name for their group. Have someone from each group brief the class on their group's selected behavior and the strategies they've identified for handling the problem.

Make appropriate comments on their strategies and if they are off-base, tactfully bring it around to a more appropriate strategy. Remember to lead applause after each brief and to post the sheets on a side wall of the room.

B. Effective Questioning Techniques

- 1. Questions are an important element in every presentation.
 - a. Heighten participants' involvement.
 - Give the participants opportunities to apply the information you have presented.
 - c. Give you opportunities to evaluate how well the participants are grasping the information.

	 2. There are three general types of questions that are useful in supporting PRESENTATIONS. a. Each type has certain advantages and disadvantages.
	b. For each type, there are situations where it is appropriate to use that type of question, and situations where the type should not be used.
Display VI-6	3. One type is the OVERHEAD/ UNDIRECTED Question.	Ask this question verbatim: "What would be an example of an OVERHEAD/ UNDIRECTED Question?" (That question, itself, is Overhead/Undirected)
	a. This type of question is "tossed out" to the entire class: that is why it is called OVERHEAD.
Display VI-7	b. The question is not directed to any particular participant: that is why it is called UNDIRECTED.c. No one is forced to answer the question. d. Any participant who wants to try to answer the question is free to do so:
	o By raising their hand;o By simply "blurting out" the answer.
HS 181C R2/06	VI-6

e. IN THEORY, because no participant is singled out to answer this kind of question, all participants are free to think about the question, and so all participants become actively involved in trying to apply what they have learned to answer the question.

- f. IN FACT, because participants don't have to try to answer the question if they don't want to, participants who are a bit shy or less self-confident tend not to try to answer this type of question.
- g. If you rely exclusively on the OVERHEAD/
 UNDIRECTED type of question, before long only the sharks will be thinking about and trying to respond to your questions.
- h. For the majority of your participants, the questions will not provoke active involvement in the learning process.
- i. When is it appropriate to use the OVERHEAD/ UNDIRECTED type of question?
 - o At the beginning of the course, when you are just getting to know your participants.

Ask the participants: "What type of participant usually will try to answer all of the OVERHEAD/ UNDIRECTED questions?" ("sharks")

Solicit participants' suggestions.

- o When the question has many different correct answers, posing it in the OVERHEAD/
 UNDIRECTED format will allow many participants to "get credit" for giving a correct answer.
- CLARIFICATION: It can be good at the outset of a course to use questions that don't force participants to respond, so that they can come to see that your questions are nonthreatening. Also, these kinds of questions will help you spot the "sharks" in your class, so you will be prepared to deal with them.
- See the example given in overhead.
- j. But in general, you will rely on other types of questions more than you will on the OVERHEAD/UNDIREC-TED type.
- 4. The PRE-DIRECTED Question is the second of our three types.

"shock" after hearing their names called, and they need a second or two to compose themselves before they are ready to hear the question. Ask participants to suggest a major disadvantage of the PRE-DIRECTED type of question. The biggest disadvantage of the PRE-DIRECTED question is that only one participant is required to think about the question. When the participant's name is called, all other participants can simply relax. The rest of the participants are passive bystanders rather than active participants. For this reason, you should not rely primarily on this type of question. But there are certain Ask participants to suggest situations where the PREsituations where the PRE-DIRECTED question is DIRECTED question is the most appropriate. best type to use. HS 181C R2/06 VI-9

Aids	Lesson Plan	Instructor Notes
	o The PRE-DIRECTED question can be very useful for forcing or encouraging the participation of a participant who is shy or hesitant to volunteer response.	i.e., the question can be directed to the talker as a means of bringing the participant back into the mainstream of the class.
	o This type of question is most appropriate when the information being sought would not be expected to be available to all participants, but only to a specific few who have special expertise.
	o PRE-DIRECTED questions can be effective in suppressing talking in class.
0	5. The third type of question is the OVERHEAD/DIRECTED.	Select a particular participant (e.g., "Harry") and pose the following question verbatim:

- c. But you, the instructor, select the participant who will respond: That is why it is called DIRECTED.
- d. The biggest advantage of this type of question is that it encourages active participation by all participants.
 - o Anyone can be called on.
 - o So everyone tries to think about the question.
- e. This is such a major advantage, you should rely primarily on the OVERHEAD/ DIRECTED question.
- f. The biggest disadvantage of this type of question is that it is more likely to produce an incorrect answer.
 - o With the OVERHEAD/ UNDIRECTED question, the participant who answers is someone who volunteered to answer; usually, the volunteer is someone who knows the answer.
 - With the PRE-DIREC-TED questions, you often select the particular participant because you know the participant has some special expertise that should ensure the ability to answer correctly.

The main purpose of this type of question is to make the participants realize that they had better think about every question you ask, because they might be called upon to answer whether they want to or not.

HS 181C R2/06

- As a means of "shifting gears", first switch to a series of PRE-DIREC-TED questions; then, once the participants are accustomed to responding only when their names are called, you can change to OVERHEAD/DIREC-TED type.
- 6. Handling participants' responses to questions.
 - a. As the instructor, you need to do everything possible to encourage participants to respond to questions.
 - (1) When participants are eager to respond, they become more active participants when a question is asked.
 - (2) When participants are reluctant to respond, learning efficiency decreases.
 - b. The way in which the instructor reacts to a participant's response to a question will determine how eager or reluctant that participant will be to try to

	(2) At the very least, we do not want to make participants sad that they responded.
	c. How should the instructor react when a participant gives a correct response to a question?	Pose that question to the class. If a participant answers the question correctly, respond by SHOUTING "That's exactly right!" Then, rush to the participant and shake hands, and give the participant a piece of candy or some other similar physical reward.
	(1) When a participant gives a correct response, we always want to commend the participant for a job well done.	Examples of positive reinforcement: o Exactly right! o Perfect! o Absolutely!
	(2) Everyone likes to be praised for doing something right.
	(3) No one likes to do a good job and have it pass without recognition.

ANALOGY: Participants expect some reaction to their answer. It is just like the situation where you are introduced to someone, and you extend your hand: you expect the person to shake your hand. If they do not, you feel rejected and insulted, and you are not likely to extend a hand to that person again. If you don't react at all to a participant's answer, the participant is not going to be much interested in answering any other questions from you.

Turn once again to "Jane", smile, and pose the same question again: "What does the 'H' stand for in 'HGN'?" When she answers, SHOUT "That is absolutely correct!", and give her two pieces of candy.
	 d. How should the instruct when the particular answers the question incorrectly? (1) First of all, we may convey to the class the answer was incorrect. 	EMPHASIZE that we can't leave the class in doubt as to the rightness or wrongness of an answer.

So the correct answer is nine and nine."

(6) The whole idea is to avoid discouraging the participant. ILLUSTRATION: (Set this up with another instructor, e.g., "Terry"):

o We never want to make the participant look foolish. YOU ASK: "Terry ... How long is the suspect supposed to stand on one foot during the One Leg Stand test?"

o We always want to treat the participant with respect.

"TERRY" RESPONDS: "15 seconds."

YOU REACT: "Actually, Terry, the suspect is supposed to stand for 30 seconds. Now, if a suspect is intoxicated, they might not be able to stand for more than 15 seconds, but we must instruct the suspect to try to stand until thirty seconds have passed.

	b. Reinforcement	Many of the activities described in this workshop provide an opportunity for success or achievement on the part of the participants. By providing pleasant consequences for their behavior, that behavior is reinforced and consequently is more likely to be repeated in the future.
	c. Association	Much of our learning is not totally new, but is related to what is already known.
		In other words, it is often easier for us to move gradually from a base of knowledge to the unknown. Activities can help us make connections between different contexts that ease the process of learning. Later on, the participant may first recall the activity, but then can make an easy transition to the underlying principle.

	b. Increase interest in the topic by presenting material that is visually appealing.	Secondly, training aids increase interest in the topic by presenting material that is visually appealing.
	c. Improve retention by engaging more than one sense (e.g., hearing and seeing or touching) in the presentation of technical material.	And third, training aids improve retention by engaging more than one of the senses, i.e., seeing, hearing, smell, taste and touch. Research in how we learn indicates that we are more receptive to learning when we are engaged mentally or physically. Training aids can provide different ways for participants to be engaged.

b. Selecting a Format

The first step in developing a handout is to decide on the format you will use for presenting the information. One of the choices you have is to present the information in paragraph form. (The information you are reading right now is an example of information in paragraph form. It has its place in handouts, but it also has its drawbacks).

A major drawback of information in paragraph form is that it is visually less appealing to the trainee than other formats.

This is particularly true if you are presenting a lot of information. There are other formats you can use that are more interesting to trainees and do a better job in communicating information.

- (1) Three handout formats that are particularly helpful as training aids are:
 - (a) Charts
 - (b) Checklists
 - (c) Worksheets

When you select a format, your decision should be based on what you are trying to accomplish with your handout. Refer to chart on selecting handout formats.

- (2) Slide (6-15) gives some guidance on selecting handout formats. It is also an example of a decision chart.
- 5. Flip Charts/Dry-erase boards

Flip charts are easels that have large paper pads that can be written on with a felt tip marker. Information can be recorded on the charts during training.

Prerecording information saves training time and insures neatness. Recording during training allows you to respond to the immediate learning situation.

Whether you prefer to prerecord or record during training, there are certain general guidelines to follow to ensure that your flip charts are readable and appealing to participants.

- a. There will be many times during the SFST School when you will need to use the dry-erase board or flip chart.
 - (1) You should print on the board or chart, using large block letters: Don't use cursive writing.

Review and demonstrate by referring to flip charts already posted in the room.

Refer to Handout (6-3) Flip Chart Tips, in their manual.

Handout (6-3) provides some tips for using flip charts.

Demonstrate this: Print "Printing, not Cursive Writing" on the dry-erase board or flip chart.

GUIDELINES IN USING PRESENTATION OR ATTENTION SKILLS
DO	DON'T
Position your body so that you face all the participants. Continually scan the group with your eyes. Walk toward participants occasionally. Smile at individuals.	Talk to visual aids. Turn your back to part of the group. Stare at individuals. Avoid eye contact or scan the group too frequently or too rapidly.
Nod affirmatively. Circle the room during exercises to check progress. Use natural facial expressions when talking with participants.	Distance yourself from the participants too much. Stand in fixed position all the time. Shuffle papers or look at your watch while someone is talking to you. Move too much.

STEPS FOR USING VIDEO/DVD EFFECTIVELY

STEP	DESCRIPTION
1. Prepare for showing.	Check that the tape is the correct size for the equipment.
	Preview the video and identify important points.
	Try out the equipment and check lighting levels. If you will be asking the participants to take notes, adjust lighting accordingly.
2. Provide instructions.	Explain to participants what they will see and why.
	Instruct participants what to do during the video, e.g., take notes, watch for certain points, etc.
	Explain to participants what they will do after the video, e.g., discuss what they saw, complete an exercise, etc.
3. Play the video.	Adjust lighting.
	Start video and adjust picture and volume.
	Observe participants and their reactions to the video.
4. Present/summarize learning points.	At the end of the video, have participants complete the learning activity.
	Summarize key points you want participants to retain from the video.

FLIP CHART TIPS

IF	THEN
You are recording input.	Record key words quickly.
	Check with participants to ensure you are reflecting their ideas accurately.
	Alternate colors when listing the group's ideas.
You wish to have participants compare and contrast data.	Use two flip charts.
You want to display information for a period of time.	Hang pages on the wall.
You want to make the most of using a flip chart.	Lightly write memory joggers in pencil in margin of flip chart page, and use as presentation notes.
	Practice tearing pages cleanly before trying it in front of the group.
	Tab prerecorded charts to eliminate searching for them when needed.
	Cover prerecording errors with paste-on labels, then write correct information on the labels.

GUIDELINES FOR MAKING TRANSPARENCIES READABLE AND APPEALING

- Use as few words as possible to communicate your ideas.
- Keep information to six lines or less, with no more than six words per line.
- Address one major idea, with up to three subpoints, on one transparency.
- Use tinted plastic to reduce glare.
- Illustrate ideas with:
 - ✓ Pictures
 - ✓ Shapes
 - ✓ Graphs
 - ✓ Color (but no more than three colors on one transparency)
- Use a grid to ensure straight lines and markings.

TRANSPARENCY TIPS

IF	THEN
You are using more than one transparency	Turn projector on, show a transparency, then turn it off - unless you are showing a series in rapid succession.
	Don't keep a transparency on too long; the image becomes tiring for viewers.
You want the group to focus on a specific area	Try one of these methods:
	Use a pencil to point to the area. Lay the pencil on the plastic.
	Reveal one area at a time by using a paper to "mask" the area you don't want showing. Place the paper between the transparency and the glass for extra control and to enable you to read the masked information.
You are using the same	Use permanent marking pens.
transparencies in subsequent sessions	Mount transparencies in plastic frames to keep them from curling.
	Store them sandwiched between papers in a dust-free location.
You wish to re-use the plastic or change the information	Use water-soluble marking pens. Run water or a damp cloth over the area to remove the ink.
You want to look more professional in front of the group	Write memory joggers in black on the transparency frames and use them as your presentation notes.
nic group	Place masking tape around edges of the projector glass to keep out the project light and to keep the framed transparencies from slipping.

Twenty Fast Tips

- 1. When putting people into teams, number the team at the rear/left of the room #1. Rear/right, #2 and on up to front, so that the front teams have the larger numbers. It keeps the participants in the back of the room from feeling isolated.
- 2. If you're always losing the masking tape, Doug McCallum suggests that you hang the roll from the projector upright. With practice, this becomes habit and you'll always be able to locate it quickly.
- 3. Hang a flip chart sheet on the exit door with the word "Questions" boldly written at the top. Have post-its available for each participant. You may invite questions, but announce that for any who are reluctant to verbalize a question, please write it down on a post-it and adhere to the questions board at breaks or any time.
- 4. If you are right-handed, put a flip chart, or something you have to use, at the left front of your training area. If you are left-handed, do the opposite. This forces you to use the entire apron area and brings you into closer contact with the participants on your less dominant side.
- 5. If your handouts are not in color, make markers available to your participants and invite them to draw pictures, color in data, whatever, to make them both colorful and personalized. This not only adds the impact of color, but also gives ownership.
- 6. Hand flip chart sheets of brain teasers around the room before the session begins. As participants try to decipher them, they cannot use linear thinking. They have to move to a creative mode, and they are then more open to comprehension and retention.
- 7. Use a "universal clock" in your sessions. It lessens resistance when the clock "belongs" to all. Enables you to allow participants to take turns timing segments of the program. It shares ownership.
- 8. When facilitating role-playing, avoid the words, "Role Play." "Practice Activity," or "Practice Session" is much less threatening.
- 9. When facilitating role-playing, either assign or have your participants select a different name then their own. Use aliases. This allows participants to "perform" under the protection of a stage name.
- 10. When instructing at the computer, bring your participants away from their screen every 40 to 45 minutes. Chairs in a circle, a break-out room, etc. Take 10 to 15 minutes for review-quizzes, questions, learning checks. This will reduce tension, aid comprehension, and encourage participation and ownership.
- 11. When training sales people or others who need to make telephone contact, request "no telephone calls during our breaks; you will have a one-half hour telephone break midmorning and mid-afternoon". This allows for ownership and control; reduces tension; helps participants network with each other during regular session breaks.

000170

- 12. When using case studies as a training tool, have participants break into teams and each team create a case study for another team to address (solve). This is powerful for ownership, networking, and allows for "real" situations to be faced.
- 13. In role-playing situations, use exaggerated props (huge plastic telephones, hats, capes, etc.) This reduces tension, adds to the fun and aids retention.
- 14. Request personnel who deliver messages (whether office or hotel) to post them on the outside of the door during the sessions unless there is an emergency. This will save you from the inopportune and allow for a better class flow.
- 15. Use the phrase "Please stand when you are done" when you have individuals on a team working on projects that take brief amounts of time. It provides energy, as they are up and down, gives them "stretch" breaks, and clues you into WHEN all are done. Also, subtle pressure is exerted on slow participants without you having to "play the heavy".
- 16. When training heavy technical materials, give up to two to three pages of the material to your participants as you begin each new segment. Ask them to read the material. Say, "Don't try to remember, don't even try to understand just read. Please stand (see tip above) when you are done". Trainers who have tried this say there is a noticeable increase in comprehension and retention and a noticeable decrease in time needed to address the materials.
- 17. Have music playing in your class pre-session. As the airlines know, this reduces tension. It also involves the sense of hearing, and the more senses involved, the more retention.
- 18. Try to have food and drink available in the room. Allow participants to get refreshments when they wish. This relieves tension, gives ownership with control and involves another of the senses.
- 19. Elizabeth Wing Spooner, Coordinator, Consumer Educational Services for Montana Power and Light in Butte, MT, talked about the concept of "wait time". When you ask a question that you want the class to answer, you need to wait between three and five seconds for a response. Most people only wait about one second. Elizabeth says her trick is that she counts the seconds on her fingers behind your back. This gives people the incentive and time to gather their thoughts and say what they need to say.
- 20. Take good care of yourself when you are training. There are days when you will need a pickme-up. Some items to keep packed in your "trainer bag" can include herb teas (especially good is "Throat Coat" found in health food stores), lemon drops, Alka-Seltzer, aspirin, etc. Also keep a small book or list of affirmations to yourself: positive messages from past participants, thank you notes, things that you have done well. These can give you an emotional boost, especially during multiple day training sessions, when energies can run low.

Given an opportunity to apply basic adult learning theory, using the information provided in the classroom and materials in the manual, the participants will be able to:

- Plan and manage an alcohol workshop.
- Describe the advanced planning tasks needed.
- Properly prepare the volunteer drinking subjects.
- Secure and assign sufficient support personnel and determine supplies needed.
- Properly control the workshop and evaluate the drinking subjects.

GUIDELINES FOR CONDUCTING VIDEO OPTIONS FOR SFST TRAINING

SESSION EIGHT: GUIDELINES FOR CONDUCTING VIDEO TRAINING OPTIONS FOR THE SFST TRAINING

Given an opportunity to apply basic adult learning theory, using the information provided in the classroom and materials in the manual, the participants will be able to:

- Discuss the use of IACP/NHTSA videos of drinking subjects in SFST Training.
- Coordinate the presentation of the IACP/NHTSA videos to provide for an efficient and effective learning experience.
- Describe the two options for SFST Training.
- Describe the maintenance and use of the SFST Field Arrest Form.

15 Minute
	Use of video drinking subjects as an optional training method.	August 1993 Study "The Use of Video in Training for SFST." (See Appendix C in Administrative Guide for basic SFST course.)
	2. Initiated over concerns of liability, prohibitions against use of alcohol in academies.	National Public Service Research Institute, Landover, Maryland.
	3. SFST course modified to allow two video options to the core curriculum.	IACP/NHTSA conducted alcohol workshop taping in Georgia in October 2004.
	4. Video Option One: videos of drinking subjects used in SESSION XI-A, "TESTING SUBJECTS PRACTICE: FIRST SESSION" ONLY.	NOTE: VIDEO I IS USED FOR THIS OPTION ONLY. Course Administrators electing this option MUST conduct a "live" aleah al markshap in "live" alcohol workshop in Session XIV.

B. Procedures

- 1. Divide class into two groups.
 - o Participants work in the same teams that were constituted for the dry Run Practice Session.
- 2. Distribute video score sheets, have participants fill in their name and team number.
 - a. Advise participants that each subject will be viewed performing all three tests. Pauses are provided between each test to allow participants time to record observed clues.
 - b. Advise participants that when viewing the administration of HGN (in the check for angle of onset) they will be provided two views. The first will show the stimulus in relation to the subject's shoulder at onset. The second view will be a close-up of the eye captured in that position.

Each team member will administer a complete SFST battery on another participant under the direct supervision of an instructor.

Make sure that all participants understand the practice procedures.

NOTE: Have sufficient copies of handout XI-A1 available. (Minimum six per participant.)

NOTE: Point out that participants will have only one chance to view each subject. Review can be conducted after the "wrap-up".

Participants shall record the number of clues observed, in the boxes located opposite each test.

Aids	Lesson Plan	Instructor Notes
	c. Advise participants that two views of the subject performing the walk and turn are also provided. The first is an overall view of both stages. The second is a close up of the subject's feet while walking.
	3. It is recommended that half the class practice the SFSTs under the direction of classroom instructors while the remainder of the class views, records and interprets the NHTSA/IACP approved videos for this session. Once completed, the groups switch roles. Only one instructor is needed to direct the viewing of the videos.	EACH team member viewing the videos must determine if the subject should or should not be arrested. Emphasize that each officer is to prepare a descriptive, written test record on each video subject, using the standard notetaking guide. Emphasize that teams will not be informed of the volunteers' BACs until the session "Wrap-Up".
	4. If time permits, participants will administer additional test to each other.
	5. Officers report their observations of video subjects (Session Wrap-Up).	Solicit officer's SFST results on each video subject. Record results on dry-erase board (Sample dry-erase board array Attachment A).
	6. Instructors notify participants of video subjects' BACs.	Instructor notifies participants of video subjects' BACs. (Advance video to end for subjects' BAC). Write BACs next to video subjects' names or code letters on the dry-erase board.

			Solicit participants' comments, questions or observations concerning the relationship between video subjects' BACs and their performances on the tests.
25 Minutes	C.	Use and Maintenance of the SFST Field Arrest Log
25 Minutes	1.	The SFST Field Arrest Log is used to record the results of the SFSTs performed on suspected impaired subjects.	Point out log should be used to record the results of ALL SFSTs administered. Emphasize: THIS INCLUDES SUBJECTS NOT ARRESTED AND INACCURATE DETERMINATIONS.
	2.	This log is extremely important in documenting an officer's experience and proficiency in performing and interpreting SFSTs.	Emphasize: The logs may be used as evidence in court.
	3.	This log has the following components:	Direct participants to transfer their documentation from the notetaking guide to the log.
(0)		a. The actual date the SFSTs were administered.
Display VIII-5
		b. Subject's full name.c. Results of each SFST test.d. Classification of BAC as above or below 0.08 BAC.	Point out each category as it is addressed.
