

“Grateful, blessed, amazed are words that can only begin to describe our feelings when we think about Brandon's cornea donation and transplant experience.”

Brandon was 3 years old when he received his corneal transplant. Brandon perforated his cornea due to extreme rubbing as his eyes were extremely irritated due to allergies and a winter cold. When his cornea began to swell at an alarming rate, his parents took him to the ER where they determined the cornea was damaged as well as infected. Thanks to the selfless gift from a donor his sight was saved. Says his mother, “Watching Brandon run around, laughing, playing with his sister, his friends and his beloved trains, you would never know that he ever had a problem with his eyes or his eyesight. Now Brandon's big, beautiful brown eyes shine bright and clear.”

With your help so far in 2014, 41 people have gained sight. Thank you, Washington State Patrol.

Your work unlocks life's possibilities for hundreds of cornea recipients and brings comfort to donor families. Thank you for helping transform lives through sight restoration.
